“Easy Chair” pp 105 Hans J. Wegner 1979.

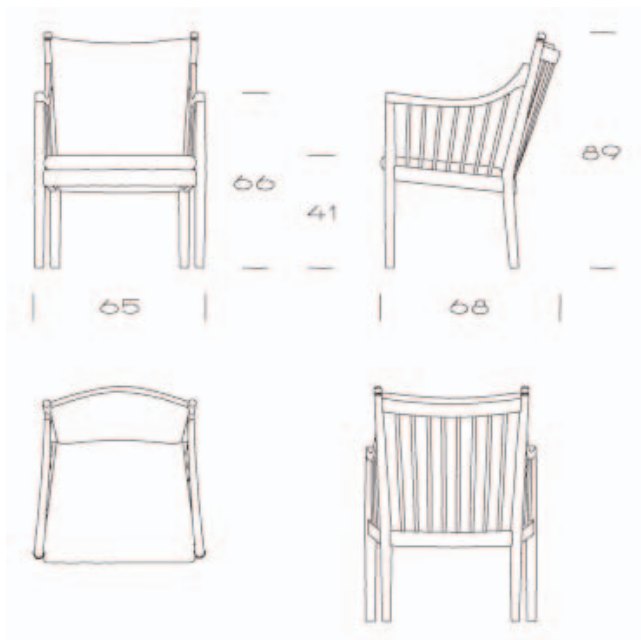

Wegner produced a proposal for the Cabinetmaker Guild Exhibition’s competition of 1947, for a ‘Living Room for a Young Family’.

Wegner exhibited two chairs the pp 550 Peacock Chair and the predecessor to Easy Chair pp 105.

The current design has undergone very few changes since the 1947 model. Although one sits upright, it is comfortable and the chair’s height makes it easy for even the elderly with less strength in their legs and back to sit down on and stand up from.

“The chair must provide the correct support for the elbows and the back.”

Hans J. Wegner.
